Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

The following documents have been cited in the Search Report:

D1: US 2002152233 A

D2: JP 2000 358192 A

Both documents represent the prior art with regard to the subject-matter of the independent claims 1, 4, 6, and 10 of the present application and show image or multimedia editing systems.

D1 relates to an object-based interactive multimedia contents authoring apparatus and method for digital broadcasting services which include media objects such as video, audio, static images, graphics, animation, character information, etc. An object editorial information processor processes the editorial information for time and spatial allocation of each media object, for user interactivity and a property, and for the properties characterizing each media object, and converts the multimedia contents from user interface to a form applicable to an object-based internal material structure and stores it. The processor changes the stored information to a file form and output to a media coder/decoder. The audio coder and decoder employ an audio coding/decoding technique satisfying MPEG-4 audio standard.

However, neither an extensible description generator for receiving MPEG-4 and MPEG-7 descriptions of the MPEG-4 contents and generating an XML-based textual format nor an extensible description/binary converter nor an XML based contents storage unit are disclosed in D1.

D2 discloses a scene description generation apparatus of an image editing system. The scene description information about the distribution position of object in a scene, is generated by a MPEG-4 scene description generator based on the positional information output by the segmentation device.

Supplemental Box

(To be used when the space in any of the preceding boxes is not sufficient)

Again, neither an extensible description generator for receiving MPEG-4 and MPEG-7 descriptions of the MPEG-4 contents and generating an XML-based textual format nor an extensible description/binary converter nor an XML based contents storage unit are disclosed in D2.

The remaining claims 2, 3, 5, 7 to 9, 11, and 12 of the present application specify preferred embodiments of the subject-matter of the independent claims 1, 4, 6, and 10.

Summarizing, all of the above cited documents merely define the state of the art. Therefore, the subject-matter of claims 1 to 12 can be considered novel and involving an inventive step. The industrial applicability is given, too.
